

With wealthy property investors in the NT getting the best rental yields in the country, I think it is a great idea that they started to help out with a small contribution via land tax.

Mosese Raico